

Churchill Returned To Parliament But Laborites Defeat His Government

Landslide To Left Sweeps Conservatives Out Of Power

(By The Associated Press)
London, July 26—Britain, surging strongly to the left, threw out the Churchill government in election returns counted today and called the Labor party, headed by Clement R. Attlee, to lead the nation against Japan and through reconstruction.
The Labor party's victory was smashing. Its lead in Commons seats over Winston Churchill's Conservatives was nearly 2 to 1, in compilations at mid-afternoon.
Churchill himself and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden escaped the tidal wave and were returned to their seats in Commons, but a dozen of their most prominent colleagues were defeated.
The returns were from the July 5 election, the nation's first general poll in 10 years.
The Labor party campaigned on a platform calling for nationalization of basic industries. King George VI likely will call on Attlee, the party's mild-mannered and Oxford-educated leader, to form the new government on reconvening of Parliament Aug. 8.
Attlee To Potsdam
Attlee, who was Deputy Prime Minister in the Churchill government until after the defeat of Germany, presumably will return to Potsdam to take up the Big Three deliberations which were interrupted yesterday to allow Churchill and his colleagues to return to receive the election returns.
A compilation from official returns said Labor had won 344 of the 640 Commons seats, Conservatives 168, Liberals 10, Liberal Nationals 12, Communists 1, scattered votes for other minor parties and still doubtful 105.
It appeared certain that the Labor party alone had won a good working majority, releasing it from the necessity of depending on other opposition parties to form a government.
Latest popular vote figures gave: Labor 5,806,067.
Conservative 4,115,887.
Churchill Wins Seat
Churchill defeated Independent A. Hancock 27,688 to 10,488 in his personal race in the Woodford Constituency.
More than a half dozen men of his national "caretaker" cabinet were defeated.
Among the early casualties were the Prime Minister's son, Maj. Randolph Churchill, and Minister of Works Duncan Sandys, Churchill's son-in-law.
The defeated also included:
First Lord of the Admiralty Brendan Bracken.
Minister of War Sir James Grigg.
Minister of Education Richard K. Law.
L. S. Amery, Secretary of State for India.
Sir Walter Womersley, Minister of Pensions.
Air Minister Harold MacMillan.
Leslie Hore-Belisha, Independent, Minister of National Insurance.
Geoffrey Lloyd, Minister of Information.
King George VI was reported following the election developments on ticker tape at Buckingham Palace. Churchill watched the results come in at 10 Downing street, his official residence.
Labor Trio Win
Conservative Labor Minister R. A. Butler was reelected.
But the "Big Three" of Britain's Socialist minded Labor party were returned to Commons by heavy majorities.
They are:
Oxford-educated Clement R. Attlee, who was deputy Prime Minister in the wartime Coalition government.
Ernest Bevin, Labor Minister in the Wartime Coalition.
Herbert Morrison, Home Secretary in the Coalition.
The preponderance of the early Labor victories came in the heavily industrialized sections of the country—areas regarded as party strongholds. But there were upsets, too, for the Conservatives in scattered country districts.
Won In 1929
The Labor party last formed the government in 1929 under the late Ramsay MacDonald, and held power until 1931 when it was forced to go to the people on the gold standard issue.
Following that election it was forced to lean heavily on the Liberal party section of the government coalition and in 1935, Britain's last general election until July 5, Stanley Baldwin led the conservatives into power.
In one of the most acrimonious campaigns in Britain's history, the Labor party pledged itself in this election to support a program of national socialization of heavy industry, transportation, mines and the bank of England.
The first thing Attlee and his party probably will attempt to do when they take over the government will be nationalization of these enterprises, including the iron and steel industry and all forms of inland transport.

MORE THAN 1000 SEE SPRAYING, DUSTING SHOW

A crowd estimated at more than 1,000 persons gathered this morning in the William Oyer orchards north of McKnightstown to witness a demonstration of the most modern "spraying and dusting methods" sponsored by the Adams County Fruit Growers' Association and making use of equipment worth many thousands of dollars and employing machinery of types never before used in Adams county orchards.
The throng that included fruitmen from Adams, York, Franklin and Cumberland counties and from West Virginia, many of them with their wives and orchard workmen, saw a specially equipped airplane dust effectively, with sulphur, five rows of peach orchard at tree-top level in a fraction of the time it would take with ordinary spraying or dusting equipment on the ground.
A big speed sprayer, said to cost $5,300, and another smaller model which cost $3,300, were among the more than a half dozen types of spraying and dusting equipment that were put through their paces along a block of Oyer's apple orchards.

Use Spray Mast
Considerable attention was attracted by a big spray mast brought here specially for this demonstration from State College. It was the first machine of its type ever operated in this county and was equipped with six movable spray nozzles on a 12-foot stationary boom.
Other sprayers used were of standard design while some were specially constructed by county orchardmen to improve their efficiency or speed or to reduce the amount of labor needed to operate them.
The demonstration got underway shortly before 10 a. m. with an exhibition of "wrong ways" to handle an ordinary spray gun by Harvey Raffensperger, vice president of the county fruitmen's organization. Most of the fruitmen were amused by his antics but he and other officials in charge said they had noticed similar spraying "methods" in some orchards in this county.

Robert C. Lott, president of the county fruitmen's organization, and others used a loud speaking system to explain the purpose of each piece of equipment and each type of demonstration.
See Aerial Dusting
Attention was given to the effects of pump volumes, disc sizes, length of spray hose lines and other factors entering into efficient orchard spraying. There was one power take-off machine used but other spray rigs were mounted with their own motors. Work done in codling moth experimental plots also was described.
The plane used in the demonstration came here from Coatesville and was piloted by its owner, Chris Stoltzfus, who earlier in the season performed the first aerial dusting of a county orchard when he winged over a peach orchard of E. B. Romig, Gettysburg R. 3.
Mr. Stoltzfus spoke briefly to the crowd this morning and then swept his plane up and down five rows of Oyer's peach orchard at about 65 miles an hour. The sulphur dust, forced directly down from the plane, was caught by the propeller blast and circulated over the foliage from every angle.

Land's Oyer's Work
The plane used today was not equipped for aerial spraying but Mr. Stoltzfus said another ship is being built for spray work and a second (Please Turn to Page 5)

Call Council On Tax Claim
Notices were issued today by President H. M. Oyer for a special meeting of borough council at 8 o'clock next Monday evening "for the purpose of taking action for or against a resolution providing for the settlement of the claim or claims of the borough against the American Surety Company of New York as surety for Harry H. Thomas, tax collector."
The meeting is being called after a year and a half of investigation, auditing and conferences between borough finance authorities, the bonding company and Mr. Thomas, former borough tax collector.

Back Bone Broken

Major Levi Gilbert, former Biglerville teacher who before he entered service was superintendent of the public schools of Altoona, has suffered the fracture of a bone in his back. He is confined to a field hospital at Mannheim, Germany. The officer, who has a son in the navy, is a younger brother of J. W. Gilbert, Chambersburg street dry cleaner. Major Gilbert is being considered for the presidency of the Shippenburg State Teachers' college.

R.C. SERVICE TO VETS, FAMILIES MOUNTS DAILY

A service that the Adams county chapter of the Red Cross has performed for ex-servicemen and their families on an important scale ever since the first World War—giving assistance of every type to the returned service man and his family in helping him readjust himself to civilian, peacetime life—is mounting to new proportions as veterans return from service in World War II.

But the service dates even farther back than the other world war, Miss Margaret McMillan, executive secretary, disclosed today when she revealed that the chapter has under its supervision and care the mentally incompetent dependent of a Civil War veteran.
The Civil War "hold-over" case is visited at intervals and regular reports are sent to the Veterans Administration on her health, happiness, financial condition and all other related matters.

Broad Program
"The county chapter of the Red Cross offers a broad program of assistance to veterans of World War II returning to their communities and civilian life. These services, beginning while the men are in service, will continue as long as problems of readjustment exist," Miss McMillan said today.

Humidity And Heat Soar Thru County

Gettysburg and Adams county sweltered today in a damp, smothering heat that by 1 p. m. had sent the mercury only to 87½ degrees but a humidity of close to 90 per cent was indicated. Wednesday's highest thermometer reading was 86 degrees.
Wednesday night was the hottest of the summer with a low of 75½ degrees.

Reduce Red Point Value Of Beef, Lamb And Veal Sunday

Washington, July 26 (AP)—OPA, reporting "definite improvement" in meat supply and distribution, today announced reductions in red point values for almost all cuts of beef, lamb and veal beginning Sunday.
The agency estimated that for the August rationing period about 9.5 per cent more meat will be available for sale over retail counters than in July. Compared with June, when civilian supplies were at their lowest level, the increase will be about 11 per cent.
With one exception, the reductions amount to one to two points a pound. The reduction for boneless rump roasts is three points. Most steaks are cut two points.
Present point values of all cuts of pork, canned fish, fats and oils, and dairy products will remain unchanged. Creamery butter continues at 16 points, the lower value was assigned July 15.
Total meat supplies for the August rationing period were estimated at 221,110,000 pounds, compared with 212,190,000 pounds for the present period. The estimate for beef is up 8,000,000 pounds, veal 2,280,000 pounds, lamb and mutton about 1,700,000. The pork supply, however, will be down about 3,270,000 pounds.
Price Administrator Chester Bowles said the improvement in civilian supplies was due largely to lower military purchases.
Calling the reductions in point values "good news," Bowles said he was aware of the difficulty housewives have had in budgeting red points.
"In August," he commented, "the lower point values for beef, lamb and veal, together with the recent reduction of creamery butter to 16 points a pound, will ease the strain on red point budgets."

BLOOD DONORS BEING SOUGHT FOR EMERGENCY

The Warner hospital may soon have a list of 500 or more volunteer blood donors to call upon in emergencies where patients need blood plasma or whole blood transfusions.
Radford H. Lippy, chairman of the Adams County Red Cross Blood Donor Service which collected more than 3,000 pints of blood for the armed forces before that service was discontinued here in May, is appealing to the approximately 500 regular donors on the Red Cross list to place themselves on call for emergency donations at Adams county's hospital.

Set Dates For Typing
Former Red Cross donors who are willing to make themselves available for emergencies at the hospital—and any other counties who wish to offer themselves as volunteer donors—are asked to go to the hospital between 6:30 and 8:30 p. m. next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday to have their blood typed.

The typing operation is simple and brief. A few drops of blood are drawn from the prospective donor's finger to be used in the test. Each prospective donor will be given an identification card showing his or her blood type. A person's blood type does not change and only one test of that kind will have to be made for each donor.

In his letter to Red Cross blood donors, Mr. Lippy wrote in part: "During recent weeks there have been repeated calls for blood donors at the Annie M. Warner hospital. An unusually large number of patients has been found in need of blood plasma and blood transfusions... and in some instances lives have been saved."

Take Precautions
"However, some emergency precautions must be taken to overcome one of the difficulties encountered in recent weeks—the typing of blood donors in order to secure the right type of blood for the patient," Mr. Lippy then explained the plans for typing prospective donors next week.

Referring to the identification cards to be issued, he wrote: "The card serves two purposes. It will save time in determining the donor's type in event of an emergency blood transfusion and it will also indicate to any physician the type of blood the donor requires in event he or she is ever in need of a blood transfusion. However, the main purpose is to compile a list of blood donors and blood types for use in an emergency at the Warner hospital."

"Will you please make an effort to report at the hospital at any time that is convenient to you on one of the days mentioned above and during the designated hours?"

Daughter Has Father Arrested

David Wolf, New Oxford R. 1, was arrested this morning about 3 a. m. by state police from the Gettysburg substation on a disorderly conduct charge brought by his daughter, Mrs. Annabelle Sandruck, Hanover, before Justice of the Peace C. S. Straley, New Oxford. State police placed the man in the county jail. Justice Straley set Friday morning at 10 a. m. as the time for a hearing in the case. The disturbance, described as "family troubles," occurred at Wolf's home.

A marriage license was issued at the office of the clerk of the courts to James Evans Schwenk, Wynnewood, and Edna Rebecca Zinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Zinn, Gettysburg.

Cpl. Gilbert Beamer Will Go To Pacific

Cpl. Gilbert Beamer, Waynesboro R. 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Beamer, Bendersville, is now being processed at Camp Atlanta, north-eastern France, as a member of the first ETO armored division to be ordered to the Pacific, according to an announcement from the 13th Armored Division headquarters.
Beamer holds the ETO ribbon with two battle stars, good conduct ribbon and a unit citation. He will be given a furlough before starting training for action in the Pacific.

Four Countians Get Discharges Yesterday

Four Adams county soldiers and a former Gettysburg resident were discharged from the army at Indiantown Gap Wednesday.

The group includes T/4 J. Fred Wright, center square; S./Sgt. John R. Gilbert, Biglerville R. 1; T/3 John M. Singley, McKnightstown; S./Sgt. Francis I. Linn, 344 West Middle street, and S./Sgt. Lloyd P. Reed, York, formerly of Gettysburg. S. Sgt. Francis I. Linn, 26, 344 West Middle street, and S./Sgt. John R. Gilbert, 25, Biglerville R. 1, reached Presque Isle, Maine, aboard an Air Transport Command plane after 21 months' service as motor sergeants in the European theater of operations.

Linn wears the American Defense ribbon, good conduct medal and ETO ribbon with five battle stars. Gilbert has been awarded the pre-Pearl Harbor ribbon, good conduct medal and the ETO ribbon with five battle stars.
Among those arriving at Indiantown for redeployment on Wednesday were Cpl. Alexander L. Damiolowski, Littletown R. 1; Pfc. Robert S. Miller, 143 Water street; Pfc. Leslie E. Beck, 327 East King street, Littletown, and T/5 Elvin Bream, New Oxford R. 1.

ODD FELLOWS TO OBSERVE CENTENNIAL

Upon receipt of an official communication from Frank Shannon, grand secretary of the Pennsylvania Jurisdiction of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, by Gettysburg Lodge No. 124, September 18 has been fixed as the date for the observance of the 100th anniversary of the founding of the local lodge. The message stated that Franklin Hoshbach, grand master of Pennsylvania, had agreed to visit the local organization on that date, being nearest to the anniversary date, September 15.

Following the business session of Gettysburg Lodge, Tuesday evening, William L. Meals, Esq., chairman of the general anniversary committee, called a meeting of its members, and announced the complete personnel of those in charge of arrangements as follows:

Jesse E. Snyder, general secretary; Samuel G. Sollenberger, assistant secretary; Ervin H. Menges, J. Frank Dougherty, Morris W. Stansbury, Luther E. McDonnell, George R. Martin, H. Wayne Weagly, general committee, sub-divided as follows:

List Sub-Committees
Finance—Clarence A. Heiges, Mr. McDonnell, Edward N. Stine.
Reception—George R. Martin, Mr. Weagly, Mr. Heiges, William I. Shields and Fred G. Pfeffer.
Publicity—Mr. Stansbury, Harold H. Reuning and George N. Coshun.
Music—Mr. McDonnell, Thomas J. Winebrenner, Paul A. Snyder, Ervin H. Menges and Merle S. Rudisill.
Program—Mr. Dougherty, Mr. Stansbury and Mr. Snyder.
Badges—Mr. Dougherty.
History—Mr. Stansbury.
Invitations—Mr. Weagly, Mr. Sollenberger and Mr. Stansbury.

Discard Parade Plan
Tentative plans were discussed, but owing to restrictions on transportation, it was decided no parade will be held, as on the occasion of the 80th anniversary, and the exercises will be witnessed by members of the order and affiliated societies only.

Members of the subordinate lodges of the county will be invited as well as those of Taney lodge, No. 28, Taneytown, Md., and Columbus lodge, Chambersburg, the parent lodge.
The members of Good Samaritan lodge, No. 46, of Thurmont, Md., will also be invited, as that lodge will observe its centenary in November.

Japanese Fleet Immobilized By Carrier Planes

WANT 200 MEN FOR WORK AT NEARBY DEPOT

Food for the fighting fronts, clothing for America's fighting men, ammunition for their rifles, tommy guns and machine guns—getting these and other vital supplies to where the Army needs them so urgently is all in a day's job for 1,400 men and women working at the war vital New Cumberland Army Service Forces Depot. The big depot is humming with activity as vast demands of the Pacific war for supplies and still more supplies keep flooding in.

Many of the workers at this key supply center, according to Brigadier General James R. Alfante, commanding general of the depot, have sons in the armed forces, some of them in the South Pacific. The record compiled at the depot to date can be attributed in a major sense, he declares, to the "splendid will to work on the part of the employees at the big supply center. Yet the task ahead is a tremendous one, and in order to staff the depot to full capacity, 200 able-bodied men are needed immediately."

Stresses Need For Men

Wilbur P. Gallatin, area director for the War Manpower Commission, stressed the vital need for workers in Army supply depots throughout this area. "It cannot be emphasized too strongly," he said, "that a primary responsibility resting with the home front at this critical stage of the Japanese war is seeing to it that our boys on the fighting fronts do not lack a single piece of equipment that may mean the difference to them between life and death. Workers at these depots are backing our brave fighting men to the limit."

Heston DeVinney, lieutenant of guards at the depot, has worked there since he returned from World War I. An overseas veteran, he served at Aisne-Marne, Oise-Aisne and Meuse-Argonne with Co. C, 126th Infantry, 32nd Division.

DeVinney has twin boys in the Army. Former employees at New Cumberland, Cpl. Heston DeVinney and Pfc. Horace DeVinney entered the service together, trained together and at 22 years of age are seasoned veterans of the bitter South Pacific war.

Fire Company Fair At York Springs

The annual three-day street fair of the York Springs fire company will start this evening and continue Friday and Saturday evenings. The street in front of the fire hall will be blocked off for amusements. This evening the Musical Melodiers will furnish music, Friday evening the Hanover P.O.S. of A. band and Saturday evening the York Springs high school band.

Meals will be served by the Women's auxiliary, Mrs. Stella Knaub, chairman. Ross Koons is president of the fire company and J. R. Hantz is chairman of the collection and expense committee.

Wounded Marine Arrives In States

After having been wounded on Okinawa, April 20, Cpl. Raymond F. Reese, USMC, 24, son of Mrs. Anna Myers, 162 Second street, McSherrystown, is now in a hospital in the States. Having participated in engagements at Guam, Saipan and Okinawa, he is now a patient in the U. S. Naval hospital, Quantico, Va.

Corporal Reese, who entered the service August 16, 1942, received his training at Banana River, Fla., and was stationed in North Carolina and California before going to the Pacific theater of operations in February, 1944. He is a wearer of the Purple Heart.

Guam, Friday, July 27 (AP)—A sky fleet of more than 350 Superfortresses dropped more than 2,200 tons of fire bombs today on three industrial cities scattered over three home islands of Japan.

By HAMILTON W. FARON

Guam, July 26 (AP)—The Japanese fleet is immobilized, temporarily at least—smashed by carrier planes of Admiral Halsey, who has vowed he wants to establish his own fleet base in Yokohama harbor.

Caught in the inland sea, where they had been hiding since they were pounded in March by Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's carrier planes, major remnants of the once powerful Japanese fleet were attacked with torpedoes, bombs and bullets by 1,200 planes of the American and British Fleets Tuesday.

Twenty warships, including six aircraft carriers, three battleships and five cruisers, were damaged in varying degrees from "heavily" to "slightly."

The extent of damage will determine whether the Japanese fleet ever again will be a potent force in the Pacific war. Probably it will not, for Halsey ordinarily is conservative in his estimates.

Five Ships Heavily Damaged

Officially, Admiral Nimitz' communique today, reporting results of Tuesday's strikes, listed 5 of the ships as "heavily damaged," which means they certainly will be out of action for a long period. Five "moderately damaged" probably will require a considerable time for repairs.

British planes probably sank an escort carrier of the Kobe class and damaged an old destroyer.

Of equal importance in speeding the end of the war were heavy new blows on the enemy merchant fleet, already reduced to such an extent it could not move sufficient supplies for the homeland or fighting fronts.

One oiler was sunk from the almost depleted fleet of tankers; nine cargo ships went down and 18 cargo vessels were damaged. Dozens of small coastal craft, such as luggers and junks, were sunk or damaged by strafing planes.

In all, 32 enemy merchant ships and 53 small craft were sunk or damaged.

19 Enemy Planes Shot Down

With the Japanese finally offering token resistance in the air, 19 enemy planes were shot down. Together, American and British airmen destroyed or damaged 190 other Japanese aircraft Tuesday and on Wednesday morning.

Of the airborne enemy aircraft, 16 were downed over targets. The other three were attempting to attack Halsey's fleet, which probably was within 100 miles of shore, but there was no indication they inflicted damage.

Bad weather interrupted yesterday's renewed carrier plane attacks after the early morning flights returned, but the assault was resumed in the afternoon and there was no reason to believe Halsey's fleet had left Japanese waters.

Through Tuesday, 620 Japanese ships had been knocked out and 778 airplanes destroyed or damaged in 15 days of strikes by units under Nimitz' command. Most of this damage was inflicted by Halsey's force.

Pilots Report Large Fires

Keeping the enemy homeland under almost constant alert, nearly 100 B-29's struck three big oil targets in the Tokyo area last midnight with demolition bombs. Pilots said they created large fires in each of the targets, the Mitsubishi, Hayama and Asaishi plants at Kawasaki. One B-29 was shot down by antiaircraft fire.

B-29 headquarters said the Superforts had destroyed a total of 143 square miles of urban industrial areas in 39 Japanese homeland cities.

Marine Corsairs hit Kyushu, southernmost of the home islands, and 11th AAF Liberators bombed Kurabu airfield on Paramushiro in the Kuriles.

Far East Air Force planes struck targets from Malaya and Java to Shanghai and Kyushu, concentrating chiefly on military targets.

Nimitz' announcement of Tuesday's results included damage listed in his preliminary report yesterday. It added the well-known—and once-feared—battleship Haruna and six aircraft carriers to the list of major warships damaged.

The Haruna erroneously was reported sunk early in the war—but has been damaged at least twice since the Army Air Force's Capt. Colin Kelly posthumously was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for crashing his burning plane into her. She was damaged in the battle for Leyte gulf last October and fled, with other imperial fleet survivors, to port.

Washington, July 26 (AP)—The nation's war casualties rose to 1,058,842 today, an increase of 5,741 in the past week.

Army figures included 920,220 killed, wounded and missing, an increase of 2,778 over last week. The navy reported 138,622 casualties for an increase of 2,963.

Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson gave the War Department figures at a news conference.

BIG DRIVE FOR SINGAPORE IS EXPECTED SOON

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

For some three weeks Tokyo has been nervously forecasting a British attack on the mammoth Naval base of Singapore which for nearly three and a half years has been one of Japan's key positions for offense and defense.

Frequently when the Mikado's spokesmen broadcast prophecies like that they are fishing for information from the Allies—hoping that we shall be foolish enough to make a retort that will divulge our plans. In this case, however, the Japs undoubtedly are sincere, as witness that they have been evacuating civilians from the island to the Malaya mainland and are preparing for attack.

Expect Big Drive
Well, they may be right. My information from good sources is that Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, commander-in-chief in the south-east Pacific, has been getting a lot of ships and materiel from Europe and is fairly well set for major action. It's worth noting, too, that Mountbatten attended the Big Three conference at Potsdam yesterday. Certainly it's a position for us to watch.

It is true that the monsoon season, with its fierce winds and rains, is now in full blast over the Indian ocean. But this wouldn't necessarily prevent an operation against Singapore, since the lower Malay peninsula is outside the monsoon belt. As I see it, the British could make an amphibious invasion of the narrow part of the peninsula, establish a base through which to funnel reinforcements and supplies, and then fight their way down to Singapore, which lies just off the tip.

Would Open Sea Lane
Recapture of Singapore would be one of the big victories of the war. For it would permit the Allies to reopen the narrow strait of Malacca between the Malay peninsula and Sumatra. Through this strait, which is a short-cut between the Indian ocean and the south China sea, the British East India fleet could pour for operations against the China coast and Japan proper.

It will be a great moment for John Bull when he starts his assault to avenge the disaster which the Japs inflicted on him at the beginning of '42. "Invincible" Singapore fell on February 15 at one of the blackest periods of the world war for the Allies. The Mikado's forces had assaulted Pearl Harbor on December 7, Wake Island fell on December 23, Hongkong followed on Christmas Day and the enemy had occupied Manila on January 2. Hitler already was counting his chickens—and why not!

Is Powerful Base
Singapore was the most powerful Naval base in all that part of the globe. It had taken fifteen years to build it, at a cost of $80,000,000, and it was one of the wonders of the world.

Nobody—barring the Japanese—had dreamed that this Gibraltar of the orient could be captured or even harmed. This it was one of the greatest shocks of the whole war when the Nipponese fought their way down through the steaming jungle of the Malay peninsula and swarmed over onto this 217 square miles with its population of some 600,000.

Daniel B. Stoops Given Discharge

Cpl. Daniel B. Stoops, husband of Mrs. Lillian (Dougherty) Stoops, Carlisle street, has received his discharge Monday at Indiantown Gap. He had a total of 104 points.

Stoops was inducted February 14, 1941, and trained at Ft. Monroe, Va.; Ft. Belvoir, Va.; and Ft. Meade, Md., from where he was discharged in September, 1941, under the 28-year-old plan. He re-entered the service January 28, 1942, and trained at Ft. Meade and Camp Blanding, Fla., before going overseas in December, 1942. He participated in the African, Sicilian and Italian invasions and wears the E. T. O. ribbon with five battle stars, the American defense ribbon, good conduct medal and Bronze star.

After returning to the United States last March he was assigned to Hq. 8th Training Regt. Field Artillery, Replacement Training center, Ft. Sill, Okla. He is now spending some time with his wife at the home of her mother, Mrs. Blanche Dougherty, Carlisle street.

DEBIT 17 FOOD RETAILERS WITH 65,620 POINTS

Ration bank accounts of 17 food retailers in this 10-county area have been debited to the extent of 65,620 points for false deposits of ration currency it was revealed today at the Harrisburg District OPA Office.

Debits against six of the merchants were for shortages of stamps contained in envelopes deposited with banks and the remaining 11 debits were for credits given meats and fats ration accounts where envelopes were deposited marked as containing red stamps, while in fact, inspection revealed that they contained the more plentiful blue stamps for processed foods.

The errors in the ration bank deposits were discovered at the Regional OPA Verification Center in New York city. Under the rationing system, the retailer deposits with his bank ration currency received from consumers, placing it in envelopes on the outside of which is written the number and type of stamps, and the depositor's signature. The banks in turn forward the deposits to the Verification Center where the envelopes are checked both for counterfeit and to determine whether or not the numbers are correct. Any errors found are reported back to the District OPA Office in Harrisburg and the debiting procedure is instituted, the banks being notified to debit the accounts found in error much the same as money accounts where checks are drawn.

At suspension hearings held in Harrisburg last week, 17 cases of grocers charged with wrong deposits and overdrafts were heard and in addition to suspension orders imposed in a number of them, all of the respondents were ordered to issue certificates to the OPA for shortages or overcharges.

In the cases of first offenders, steps are taken by the District OPA Office to debit accounts, it was explained, but this action does not absolve grocers of suspension proceedings.

Those charged with mis-statements claiming credits for red stamps while their envelopes were found to contain blue stamps, include: Henry J. Hull, Blue Ridge Summit, 5,200 points and E. H. Smith, York Springs, 360 points.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

The Senators, Albany's Eastern league representatives, are finding the Williamsport Grays as troublesome as a midnight-calling mosquito.

The Senators beat the Grays 8-7 last night. But it was only their fourth victory over the Pennsylvanians in 12 clashes this year and at that Albany barely pulled through after entering the final frame with what appeared to be a safe lead.

Binghamton, which has the same sort of trouble with Scranton, split with the Miners, winning the 10-inning nightcap 6-3 after dropping a 4-1 opener. Utica defeated Wilkes-Barre 8-3 to stretch its league lead over Hartford to four full games. The Laurels split with Elmira, coping a 2-1 curtain raiser but falling 3-0 in the second game.

Games today: Albany at Williamsport (2), 6:30 p. m.; Binghamton at Scranton, 8 p. m.; Hartford at Elmira, 8 p. m.; Utica at Wilkes-Barre, 8 p. m.

3 CLUBS FIGHT FOR LOOP LEAD

(By The Associated Press)
The middle part of the Interstate league standing is little more than a scorer's headache today with the Hagerstown Owls, Allentown Cardinals and Trenton Spartans involved in what is virtually a three-way tie.

The Redbirds took their second straight from the Owls last night, 12-2, taking a four percentage point lead over Trenton, who bowed to Lancaster, 10-9, but remaining one percentage point behind third place Hagerstown.

York's White Roses, with Lloyd Randol driving in three runs, snapped their seven-game losing streak with a 6-2 win over Wilmington.

The middle of the circuit standing is going to continue to be confused until Allentown catches up with the rest of the league in number of games played. The Redbirds have played only 76 games while Trenton and Lancaster each have appeared in 81. Wilmington 80, York 85 and Hagerstown 87.

The pace-setting Red Roses of Lancaster took a hard-fought 14-inning battle from Trenton, scoring three runs in the last half of the 14th after the Spartans had tallied twice in the first half. It was Hal Fox's single with the bases loaded that scored the winning marker.

George Koby limited Hagerstown to five hits, fanning 10 batters in hurling Dutch Dorman's Cardinals to victory.

Tonight's schedule: Wilmington at York, Trenton at Lancaster and Hagerstown at Allentown.

SENATE FIGHTS TROOP CONTROL TO KEEP PEACE

By JAMES MARILOW
Washington, July 26 (AP)—The present Senate fight over the United Nations charter is really not a fight over the charter. The Senate will approve that.

The real fight seems sure to come months from now. That's when we decide, in a separate agreement, how the United Nations will use American troops.

Under our Constitution, the Senate—not the House—approves treaties. Two-thirds of the senators present at voting time have to vote "yes" to approve.

Getting two-thirds of the Senate to vote "yes" is lots tougher than getting only a simple majority of them to vote that way.

Because it's so hard, efforts have been made to get around this two-thirds rule of the Senate.

Instead of submitting treaties to the Senate, some presidents have entered into what is called "executive agreements" with foreign governments.

These agreements, having the effect of treaties, don't have to run the Senate gauntlet. There they might be killed, if offered as treaties.

(President Roosevelt—by executive agreement in 1940—swapped 50 overage destroyers with Britain for leases on British Western Hemisphere bases for the United States.)

And some agreements with foreign nations—also having the effect of treaties—have been put through the whole Congress in the form of resolutions or bills.

A resolution or bill needs the approval of both House and Senate, but only by a simple majority vote in both. Thus the two-thirds Senate bugaboo is avoided.

(The Senate and House recently approved by majority vote both a resolution and bill which were international agreements.)

(The bill was the Bretton Woods agreements on a world monetary fund and bank. The resolution was one which made us a member of the United Nations food and agriculture organization.)

So much for the background.

Charter Is Treaty
The United Nations charter has come to us in the form of a treaty. So the Senate's working on it. When it's approved we'll be a member of the United Nations to keep peace in the world.

Even isolationist senators can vote for the charter. But here's where they may put up a fight:

Maybe a year from now, when the United Nations organization is operating, we'll have to decide how many troops and ships and planes we'll put at the disposal of the United Nations to keep peace.

We'll have to decide whether those armed forces can be called into action by the United Nations to suppress aggression anywhere—or just where we'll let them be used.

If we put drastic limits on the size of our armed forces (for United Nations' use) and limits on where they'll be used, we may destroy the United Nations.

Form Of Agreement
At any rate, we'll have to work all that out in the form of an agreement with the United Nations.

So this is the question:

Will that agreement be in the form of a treaty, of a bill, or of a resolution?

If it comes to the Senate in the form of a treaty a year from now, a great many senators who are now willing to vote for the charter might not be willing to vote for that other treaty, or at least they might try to hamstring it.

The charter itself isn't explicit on whether the agreement should be a treaty.

Mr. Churchill Defeated After Leadership In Greatest Crisis

By HELEN CAMP

London, July 26 (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill, the man who guided Britain through the darkest days of the war, stuck close to No. 10 Downing street today as returns from Britain's July 5 general election showed he had lost the political leadership of the nation.

His own constituency, Woodford, reelected him to Parliament and Mrs. Churchill went there to hear her husband counted in.

"It will be my husband's duty and pleasure to serve you again in parliament," Mrs. Churchill said to a crowd at the town council office. She was accompanied by her daughter Mary.

Alexander Hancock, an independent candidate who polled 10,488 votes against Churchill's 27,688, said he thought he had "scored a great success with a revolutionary, practical proposition."

Hancock's platform included a proposal for a one-hour working day.

Elected In 1900

Soldier, war correspondent, historian and world statesman, Churchill won his first seat in parliament in 1900. He was Undersecretary of Colonies, 1906-08; president of the Board of Trade, 1908-1910; Home Secretary, 1910-11; First Lord of the Admiralty, 1911-15; a soldier on the Western Front, 1916; Minister of Munitions, 1917; Secretary for War and Air, 1918-21; Secretary for Colonies, 1921-22, and Chancellor of the Exchequer, 1924-29.

It was in the second world war that Churchill scaled the heights. He had regained his old post as First Lord of the Admiralty, which he had resigned in World War I after the Gallipoli debacle. Moving up from that post he succeeded Neville Chamberlain as Prime Minister on May 10, 1940, the day Germany invaded France and the Low Countries.

When he faced Commons for the first time as Prime Minister, Churchill made this classic promise: "I have nothing to offer but blood, toil, sweat and tears." He was a symbol of British determination.

"Never Surrender"
Later on June 4, as the last exhausted remnants of the British Army landed in England from Dunkerque's beaches, Churchill declared:

"We shall defend our island whatever the cost may be. We shall fight on the beaches, we shall fight on the landing grounds, we shall fight in the fields and in the streets, we shall fight in the hills; we shall never surrender."

Before and after the entrance of the United States into World War II Churchill tightened Britain's bonds with America through personal visits with the late President Roosevelt. An indication of how closely Churchill and Roosevelt worked together was given when the Prime Minister told Commons after the President's death last April that "more than 1,700 messages" had been exchanged.

Dissolved May 23
Churchill's wartime coalition government was formally dissolved last May 23 when he presented his resignation to King George VI and promptly was asked to form a caretaker regime to serve until after the general election.

In the campaign Churchill made an extended tour of the country. He attacked the Socialist policy of the labor party and declared that no Socialist system can be established without "some form of Gestapo." He was heckled by the Laborites in Commons for that remark.

The first full size symphony orchestra organized exclusively for broadcasting was introduced by Arturo Toscanini in 1937.

CLAIMS PETAIN AND LAVAL MADE COMMON CAUSE

By LOUIS NEVIN

Paris, July 26 (AP)—Jules Jeanneney, former president of the French Senate, told a high court of justice today that the machinations of Pierre Laval made Marshal Petain dictator when France collapsed in 1940 and that the two men "made common cause together."

The white-haired witness appeared at this fourth day of Petain's trial on charges of betraying France.

Jeanneney, president of the Senate in 1940, described an extraordinary session of Parliament in which Laval, Vichy chief of government, suppressed debate and rammed through three "constitutional acts" abrogating the constitution and giving the marshal virtually unlimited power.

Says Petain Was Weak
He said Petain showed "deplorable weakness" when he succeeded Paul Reynaud as premier at Bordeaux in June, 1940.

"Let us admit that we had no other choice," Jeanneney said.

As the witness left the courtroom the 89-year-old marshal, who had been maintaining an aloof air, made the extraordinary gesture of bowing to the witness. Jeanneney bowed in return.

Louis Marin, former minister of state, then testified.

The first three days of the trial of the 89-year-old former chief of the Vichy French state, who is charged with intelligence with the enemy and of plotting against the

Anticipates Few Building Changes

State College, Pa., July 26 (AP)—Building styles will change slowly in the postwar period, Royal M. Gerhardt, professor of architectural engineering at the Pennsylvania State college said today.

"Architects," he predicted, "will be slow to make radical changes in house designs and materials, and contractors will hesitate to bid on revolutionary designs until they know more about untried materials and the labor costs of installation."

security of France, progressed so slowly that on several occasions members of the special 24-man jury exclaimed "Let's get on with it."

Had Cabinet List
Former French Premier Edouard Daladier devoted a great part of his stay on the stand yesterday to testimony suggesting that the French defeat in 1940 could be laid only to mistakes of the military leaders and "fifth column" activities in France.

Albert Lebrun, last president of the Third Republic, disclosed a critical point in the prosecution's case when he said Petain had the list of his cabinet ministers already prepared when the president called him in Bordeaux to form a new government to succeed that of Paul Reynaud. Usually in France it takes days to line up a new cabinet.

One of the jurors testified unsuccessfully to get Petain to disclose when he prepared the list. The prosecution contends the marshal had been plotting for some time to seize power and overthrow the Republican form of government.

Radio engineering departments have covered as much as 10 years of normal development in two war-time years.

$700,000,000 ASKED BY REDS

Washington, July 26 (AP)—Russia's request for $700,000,000 worth of UNRRA aid met a mixed reception in Congress today.

Simultaneously, but without reference to the Russian appeal, an UNRRA official said the agency's funds are running low and that nations participating in its relief and rehabilitation operations might be asked to increase their contributions.

These now are fixed at one per cent of their national income for one year.

The Soviet government's initial application for help was disclosed by Roy F. Hendrickson, UNRRA deputy director, in response to a news conference question yesterday.

He said the request would be screened, as are those from other nations, to determine Russia's ability to import goods and pay for them.

Members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee available to reporters declined comment, but Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said:

"I am very much afraid they won't get that much. I don't think UNRRA is going to operate on such a large scale."

"We (the United States) are down for only $1,350,000,000 and I don't think we've put in more than 75 per

Earth Tremor Is Felt In Augusta

Augusta, Ga., July 26 (AP)—An earth tremor was felt in this area at 6:30 a. m. today.

The shock lasted only a few seconds and no property damage was reported. Several residents on the edge of town reported houses vibrated from the movement.

The Augusta Herald received scores of telephone calls from outlying sections. Residents in the center of town said dishes and windows rattled.

The Herald received telephone calls from Aiken, S. C., about 16 miles away, Langley, S. C., 12 miles from here and from Blythe, and Hephzibah, Ga., about 15 miles from Augusta, reporting the tremor rattled windows in those areas.

Less sugar for you

Sugar is really scarce. There has been greatly reduced production of raw cane sugar at the main source of supply—Cuba—due to a severe drought. Also the requirements of our Government for our armed forces and for feeding civilians abroad have grown heavier. As a result, there is less sugar than usual for us here at home.

Therefore, till more sugar is available, the thing to do is to use your sugar stamps wisely and make a little do a lot.

Just Folks

DIET RULE

There was a gourmand, full of gout,
Who whimpered as he walked about
And winced with pain when someone neared,
Because the slightest touch he feared.

"How back to health?" he asked a sage.

"How life enjoy in spite of age?"
The wise man said: "The rule—learn it!"

On sixpence live a day—and earn it!"

There was a Yankee doctor, too,
Whose patients yearly richer grew
And (let the dreadful truth be told)
Accumulated pains with gold.
One begged of him at last to tell
What medicine would make him well.

"A quart of sawdust," he replied,
"Which you, yourself, have cut and dried."

There is no tonic quite so sure
As work, the ills of men to cure.

Today's Talk

TRAVELERS

I have talked with many a person who has traveled the earth, yet without going anywhere! Thoreau once said: "I have traveled a great deal in Concord." From the door step to the open land in front, and all about, he traveled the earth. He saw in a single human being a composite of the human race, and sensed the spiritual significance of everything that his eyes saw.

Thoreau looked upon man as "a universal organism." The "local variations of universal forces" interested him most. That's why he could travel in Concord and be known as a world traveler as well. And what was true of this unusual individual may be as true of any of us, if we will but face the facts of Nature.

The active and happy creatures in Nature, while inheriting many of the unwholesome traits of human beings, still live a more natural life, for their instincts guide them and they violate them less. They, too, are travelers, but they know their territory and are content in it.

Means that are insufficient to satisfy the natural urge in people, serve only to rust and destroy the finer impulses that ought to rule. The facility of great wealth, the dullness of unnatural contacts, and the foam of fame, only separate a person from his natural, happy area. Such a one thinks that he is traveling a broad road, but its end is at its beginning.

The late William Allen White lived in a small country town—Emporia, Kansas—but he made it famous as a counterpart of New York, Paris, or London. He walked from his home to his newspaper office, traveling a dozen countries, and through the streets of many a great city, as he did so.

I traveled all over England with my friend, who is my guest at my summer lodge, on Grand Lake, here in Nova Scotia. Before the cheerful log fire we visited a famed spot, and talked with many a great mind. You don't have to take a train, a boat, or an automobile, in order to travel far!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Your Inner Needs."

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Lions Enjoy Picnic At Caledonia Park: Lions, Lionesses and Lionettes departed themselves at Caledonia Park, Monday afternoon, in the first annual picnic of the Gettysburg Lions Club. Games for men, women and children were played during the afternoon, and after a delicious basket luncheon, a baseball game was indulged in until it was time to return home.

Enthusiastic Women Voters Hold Meeting: Seventy-five women from Adams and York counties, members of the non-partisan Pennsylvania League of Women Voters, braved rainy weather Tuesday to participate in the first of the series of three "political picnics" to be held in Central Pennsylvania, at Little Round Top on the battlefield here. Miss Martha G. Thomas, Philadelphia, first vice chairman of the state league, called the meeting to order.

Attendance at the political "jam-boree" was considered excellent by Miss Edna Eicholtz, chairman of the Adams County League of Women Voters.

Improve Marsh Creek Swimming: Rocks have been removed from the channel at Marsh Creek Heights and repairs completed at the dam which makes the impounded waters ideal for swimming, boating and fishing, according to persons occupying cottages there. Water ranges from 4 to 9 feet in depth since the dam has been repaired.

Birth Announcements: Mr. and Mrs. Claude Rudisill, Straban township announce the birth of a daughter on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shull, North Stratton street, announce the birth of a daughter on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Relix, Baltimore street, announce the birth of a son Friday.

Counties See Dedication of I.O.O.F. Home: Headed by Governor Albert C. Ritchie, a host of notables assisted Maryland Odd Fellows in the formal dedication of the new Maryland Odd Fellows $500,000 home for aged and orphans, on the Gettysburg-Frederick road, near the latter place, Sunday afternoon.

Many Gettysburg and Adams county Odd Fellows motored to Frederick for the exercises, which were held in a downpour of rain, but which failed to dampen the ardor of the 25,000 persons in attendance.

Guard Unit On Duty At Camp: Members of the Gettysburg unit National Guard, 105th Motor Repair Section, 28th Division train, left Saturday morning, aboard a special car for Harrisburg, thence for Mt. Gretna, where they will be in camp for fifteen days. The local unit is commanded by Lieutenant W. Howard Armor and comprises 16 men. Three members of the outfit left on Thursday to prepare for the complete unit. Those who left for Camp Miner were Horace Bender, Clement Woutersz and Fred Tate.

A. M. E. Zion Church Is Seeking $1800: The Gettysburg A. M. E. Zion church, South Washington street, is conducting a drive in town to raise $1800 to pay off an existing mortgage on the church property. Rev. R. J. Frazier, pastor, and Richard Thomas, secretary of the church council, are in charge of the drive, and contributions can be made to either of them.

Honor Memory Of Doctor Stoner: A low mound of freshly turned earth, covered with a heap of flowers, marks the place in the East Berlin cemetery where on Friday afternoon all that was mortal of Dr. James Buchanan Stoner, who died in New York City on Wednesday was laid away for an eternal sleep. Stricken by Bright's disease two months ago, Doctor Stoner, with the aid of medical science which he so effectively used in army camps from Alaska to Florida and from Maine to the Golden Gate, battled the encroaching affliction at the United States Marine hospital, Staten Island, New York. But the disease had become firmly entrenched, resisting science, and death followed.

Start Stuccoing New Hotel Annex: Stuccoing the new Hotel Gettysburg $350,000 annex started on Monday when a crew of workmen mounted the scaffolding, already erected in the rear of the building and started applying the first layer of concrete. In a few days the second and last layer will be applied, with the application of small stones and pebbles thrown on immediately

BELGIUM BULGE TOUGHEST SPOT FOR 28TH UNIT

Indiantown Gap, Pa., July 25 (AP)—Veterans of Penna.'s own 28th Infantry Division, back at their home cantonment for 30-day furlough processing, agreed today the battle of the Belgium Bulge was their "toughest Spot" in the Allied sweep across Europe.

T. S. Walter Ware, of Harrisburg, an armorer with Company E, 110th Infantry, recalled his unit was on the outskirts of Bastogne when the fighting was at its greatest fury.

"For a long time it was really tough and go but we made it," he said.

T. J. Paul Preusser, Pittsburgh, a mechanic with the 229th Field Artillery Battalion, said his outstanding memory of overseas service was last Christmas day.

"We'd been pinned down for quite a while and we were out of practically everything—food as well as supplies," he said. "Then the 82nd Airborne Division came to our rescue and we had turkey for our Christmas dinner. Believe me that was something."

Main Body in France Advance elements of the 28th started arriving yesterday at Indiantown Gap where the outfit began training after being called into federal service in 1941. The main body of the division is due to sail from France this month.

Soldiers of the 28th whose homes are in Pennsylvania, Ohio and lower Michigan are being sent to Indiantown Gap to receive 30 days duty furloughs before their next assignment. Those from other states will be sent to reception centers closer their homes for similar processing.

Two brothers, who served in the 28th from the time it was called into federal service, were among those arriving with the advance elements. They are T. Set. William Davis and T. J. Melbourne Davis, Danville.

Brig. Gen. Malcolm P. Lindsey, commanding general of Indiantown Gap, welcomed the 28th early arrivals and conveyed the regret of Governor Edward Martin that the Pennsylvania chief executive was unable to greet them because of official business. Martin commanded the 28th with rank of major general when it was called into federal service.

CHECKS STATE LIQUOR ORDER

Harrisburg, July 26 (AP)—Auditor General G. Harold Warner said today he was withholding approval "temporarily" of some requisitions for purchases submitted by the state Liquor Control Board but declared he was not conducting a special investigation of the board.

Deputy Auditor General James B. McFadden who gave out Warner's statement, said the requisitions totaled roughly $1,000,000 and called for purchase of wines and brandies. "The act of the Legislature," Warner's statement said, "is mandatory that the auditor general approve all liquor purchases. I have never had the reputation of conducting a rubber stamp office and when I have sufficient information before me so that I can intelligently approve or disapprove these requisitions, I will do so."

McFadden said the requisitions were submitted about a week ago and that three or four days yet would be required for necessary checking. He doubted that any action would be taken before next week.

U.S. Army Surgeon Dies In Florence

Indiana, Pa., July 26 (AP)—The War department has notified Mrs. Ellen Lydie Dutton, of Indiana, of the death of her husband, Lt. Col. Arthur S. Dutton, 35, on July 17 at the U. S. Army Hospital in Florence, Italy, where he was executive officer.

Dutton, who specialized in surgery, suffered an infected arm and hand several months ago and this illness led to his death, Mrs. Dutton said.

5 Red And 5 Blue Stamps Valid Aug. 1

Washington, July 26 (AP)—Five more red stamps and five more blue stamps in ration book No. 4 will become valid August 1, OPA announced today.

Each stamp is good for 10 points. The new stamps, all good through November 30, are:

Red, for meats, fats, F1, G1, H1, J1 and K1.

Blue for processed foods, P1, Q1, R1, S1 and T1.

Red stamps K2 through P2 and blue stamps T2 through X2 will not be valid after July 31.

RATIFICATION OF CHARTER IS SEEN BY MONDAY

Washington, July 26 (AP)—Senate leaders pointed today toward ratification of the United Nations charter by Saturday, or Monday at the latest.

If there are indications tomorrow that the roll-call can be reached shortly, Majority Leader Barkley is prepared to call a Saturday session. Otherwise, the Senate will recess over the week-end.

While the question of ratifying the treaty itself long has been answered, the issue of how the pact shall be fulfilled gave rise to considerably sharper discussion.

One group, spearheaded by Senator Lucas (D-Ill.), contended yesterday that international agreements defining use of American troops in the postwar peace preserving set-up can be handled adequately by a joint resolution requiring only a majority vote of both House and Senate.

Other senators, including Republican leader White of Maine and Taft of Ohio, took the view that only a treaty would do for the supplementary agreements. A treaty requires two-thirds approval by the Senate.

There was general agreement, however, that there is no chance the matter could be taken care of through a purely executive agreement, minus congressional consent in one form or another.

Barkley, as well as Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Foreign Relations committee, said they thought the division of sentiment of no great moment. Both expressed confidence that after ratifying the basic agreement, the Senate would not renege on carrying it out.

Three Prisoners Of War Missing

Pittsburgh, July 26 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation reported three German prisoners of war were missing early today from the Red Bridge camp, North of Kane, Pa.

The men may have escaped any time after 9 p. m. yesterday, the FBI said, as they arranged dummies in their bunks to simulate occupancy. All wore blue denim clothing marked "PW" in large white letters. They were identified as Paul Thiel, 22, a newcomer to the camp which is under supervision of Camp Reynolds, Greenville, and engaged in cutting timber. Thiel is five foot, nine, weighs 180 pounds, has grey eyes, brown hair and speaks a little English.

Neither of his companions, Anton Schulte, 18, and Leopold Stoebel, 19, speaks English.

Schulte is five foot, two and weighs 155 pounds. Stoebel, five foot six, weighs 134. Both have brown eyes and hair.

The FBI said the men evidently escaped underneath the wire enclosure around the camp by removing some earth and lifting the fence.

AG. SECRETARY TO INVESTIGATE POULTRY MART

By DONALD SANDERS

Washington, July 26 (AP)—An investigation of the plight of retail poultry dealers in the Middle Atlantic states will be made by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson.

He promised such a study to a delegation of poultry dealers and live poultry buyers' representatives which told him late yesterday that present distribution practices in the area are freezing out retail dealers.

David N. Feldman, Philadelphia attorney who acted as spokesman for the delegation, said the Secretary-War Food Administrator was "very sympathetic" and promised an immediate investigation.

Feldman told Anderson, he said, that the present practice of releasing only processed poultry threatens to give monopoly to processors.

Processors Open Stores "In Philadelphia," Feldman continued, "four processors are opening stores for individuals or firms who were formerly engaged in the wholesale live poultry business, and are threatening to open more retail stores, dictating who shall and who shall not be permitted to be in business."

Philadelphia and New York ordinarily buy much of their poultry from the Delmarva peninsula—comprising Delaware and the eastern shores of Maryland and Virginia—in which all stocks were channeled to the army in December, 1944.

Recently approximately 30 per cent of the area's poultry was released to the public, but only after processing.

Continuation of this practice, Feldman declared, will force 500 small retailers out of business in Philadelphia alone, and will also make it impossible to purchase kosher-killed fowl.

Seek Revisions

"We urge your department to aid in revising the method of distributing the released poultry so that a substantial portion of this poultry is received by the retail live poultry dealer who relinquished his right to it in December, 1944, when the government needed it most for the armed forces," Feldman said he told Anderson.

Feldman proposed, on behalf of the delegation, that a federal live poultry agency be established to see that stocks are distributed equitably and that the government license all poultry dealers for the duration of the war.

The delegation, which was accompanied by Senators Myers, (D-Pa.), and Radcliffe, (D-Md.), included representatives from Philadelphia, New York City, Baltimore and the Delmarva peninsula.

Wolf's Bus Line Gets New Permit

Harrisburg, July 26 (AP)—The Public Utility Commission granted Wolf's bus line of York Springs the additional right today to carry workmen employed at the C. H. Musselman & Co., cannery at Biglerville, Adams county, and in orchards in Franklin, Menallen, Tyrone, Huntingdon and Latimore townships, between points on a designated route.

The firm also was permitted to transport persons between a work camp at Fawn Grove and farms in Latimore and Huntingdon townships, during the harvest season.

The permission is for four months, pending action on the company's application for a permanent permit.

Army Units Reaching U. S.

(By The Associated Press)
Advance units of the 45th Division are scheduled to sail from Le Havre today (Thursday) for the United States. The remainder of the division is now in Reims.

The following army units left Antwerp—now in full operation as a redeployment embarkation port—for home during the past few days: 3446th, 3447th, 451st and 919th ordnance heavy automobile maintenance companies; 436th military police escort guard company; 344th harbor craft company; 342nd armored field artillery battalion and the 638th tank destroyer battalion.

Arriving in the United States today:

At New York—hospital ship Acacia, with 775 casualties, and six small vessels with 104 troops. No particular units represented.

PLANS SINGLE CRUSHING BLOW AGAINST JAPS

Washington, July 26 (AP)—Gen. Jacob L. Devers, new chief of army ground forces, said today the plan is to mass a force for a single crushing blow against Japan, adding "there's no use doing it piecemeal."

Appearing at a news conference with Acting Secretary of War Patterson, Devers said that "we hope to get these 7,000,000 (the approximate total of the army after partial demobilization) redeployed against the Japs in a single blow."

He explained that he did not mean the whole 7,000,000 could be used "on one small island" but that they would be needed here in this country, in the pipeline of supply that feeds the forces on the Pacific front, and elsewhere.

The general was commander of the Sixth Army Group in the European fighting.

The big job now, he said, is to get the men who have been on furloughs back to camp and put them in re-training for the Pacific war. Along with them must be trained men who are coming into the army for the first time and who will go into the reorganized outfits bound for the Pacific. The men will be given a minimum of eight weeks' retraining, he said.

Fifteen Accused Of OPA Violations

Philadelphia, July 26 (AP)—Violation of Office of Price Administration regulations was charged against 15 persons, including two city hall employees, when indictments were reported by the Federal Grand Jury yesterday.

Samuel L. Rothberg, 50, and Joseph Di Cenzo, both county commission employees, were indicted with four others on charges of possessing counterfeit red stamps.

Nine others were indicted on miscellaneous OPA violation charges.

No New Tires For "A" Card Motorists

Washington, July 26 (AP)—The OPA has allotted 2,500,000 passenger car tires for rationing in August—the same as in July—but no new tires are yet in sight for "A" motorists.

Urging "A" drivers to use every conservation aid, including recapping, OPA said "it will be a long time" before new tires can be granted them.

The August quota of 386,862 smaller truck tires is unchanged from July, but the quota for truck tires size 8.25 and larger is being reduced from 234,308 to 200,000.

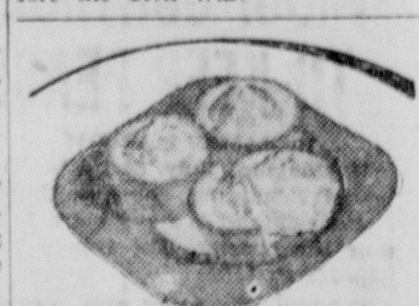

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

SLIGHT INTERRUPTION
Miles City, Mont., July 26 (AP)—Rev. John B. Fitz, delivering an outdoor sermon after a church picnic, was annoyed by rattling sounds. With dignity he stepped from an automobile, with two well-aimed shots eliminated two buzzing rattlesnakes near the congregation and resumed his sermon.

GENERAL CRAIG DIES
Washington, July 26 (AP)—General Malin Craig, 69, Army chief of staff from 1935 to 1939 and president of the War Department's personnel board during World War II, is dead. Craig died yesterday in Walter Reed General hospital where he had received treatment since suffering a heart attack a year ago.

safe monopoly is a monopoly of the community," Attlee has declared. He has promised political liberty for India "if they can achieve it for themselves" and he has declared for the closest possible relations with the United States and Russia.

There has been little outward difference of opinion between the Labor and Conservative parties on foreign policy, as shown by Attlee's willingness to accompany Churchill to Potsdam. The Laborites did challenge Britain's position in Greece.

The question of who will be chosen Eden's successor as foreign secretary remained undetermined, but speculation has centered around three names in this order—Ernest Bevin, Hugh Dalton and Herbert Morrison.

All three served in the coalition cabinet of Churchill, Bevin as Labor minister, Dalton president of the board or trade and Morrison as home secretary.

that he has the information he needs regarding the GI Bill of Rights, vocational rehabilitation, government education, loans, or pensions.

"If the wounded man dreads his first homecoming or is apprehensive over his family's reaction, the worker helps prepare his family for his return. This may be necessary if he is handicapped. The worker will write the chapter Home Service worker, explain the handicap, outline further treatment recommended by the medical officer and advise on how best to help the serviceman make his adjustment." Miss McMillan explained. "The Home Service worker will interpret this information to the family."

"At the time of discharge, Red Cross workers are available to help him with his application for a claim for pension or other government benefits. If the veteran wishes Red Cross assistance in presentation of his claim before the Veterans Administration rating board, he may designate the Red Cross to represent him. If he prefers another agency, the Red Cross worker will help him get in touch with the one he designates. If he is concerned over future employment and possible restrictions imposed by a handicap, the worker will arrange for an interview with the representatives of the United States Employment and Civil Service.

"The able-bodied serviceman also has the assistance of the Red Cross field director or other Red Cross workers, USES and Civil Service at the point of separation from service.

"Our Home Service workers, headed by Mrs. William Tyson, are prepared to give further assistance when the serviceman returns home a veteran," the executive secretary declared.

Early in the program Vice President Raffenberger paid tribute to the effectiveness of Mr. Oyler's long fight against orchard pests in the apple orchard used in this morning's demonstration.

The demonstration was completed by noon. Fog prevented the plane from reaching here on the 9 o'clock schedule but other features of the morning were run off first and the plane flight was made in the clear hot weather near midday.

Nelson Jones, State College, came here to operate the mast tower in the demonstration. A number of State college fruit extension specialists and research men from the Arendtsville laboratory were on hand for the program. County Agent M. T. Hartman worked with the fruitmen's committee in planning the morning's schedule.

Bible Conference Enters Final Week

The general Bible conference sponsored by the Philadelphia School of the Bible, at Greenwood Hills, two miles west of Fayetteville, enters its final week Saturday. Sessions will continue daily at 9:45 and 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. On Sunday afternoon a rally will be held at 3:30 p. m. Speakers for the week will include: The Rev. Thomas G. Lawrence, Yonkers, N. Y.; the Rev. Melvin V. Eflaw, Huntington, W. Va.; the Rev. Wilbur P. McCullough, Springville, Pa.; V. Clifford Harrington, treasurer of the Philadelphia School of the Bible, and Dr. Clarence E. Mason, Jr., conference director.

A feature of each evening is a children's meeting, relieving parents of their children.

HOME STRETCH

Spokane, Wash., July 26 (AP)—Reflected a month ago by the Marine Corps because he was an inch too short, Donald A. Dunn, 17, swung from a horizontal bar 15 minutes each day. Yesterday he took another examination. He measured five feet, five inches and was accepted with an inch to spare. "Hope I don't shrink," said Dunn happily.

May Alter Orphans' Court Procedure

Harrisburg, July 26 (AP)—A new Orphans' Court procedure for Pennsylvania may result from proposed re-codification of the state's decedents' estate laws by a special legislative committee.

Senator O. J. Tallman (R-Lehigh) said the committee set up yesterday by the Joint State Government Commission planned to "streamline acts having to do with settling intestates."

"At the same time there was some discussion at the organization meeting regarding setting up a new code for Orphans' Court procedure," said Tallman.

The committee will face the task of modernizing the "Seven Sisters Acts" in order to bring them up to date. The acts are Orphans' Court Act, Orphans' Court Partition Act, Revised Price Act, Wills Act, Register of Wills Act, Intestate Act, and the Fiduciaries Act.

"We hope to bring most of the acts into line with present court decisions," explained Tallman after the organization meeting.

Battalion Given Coveted Citation

With the 80th Division in Germany, (By Mail)—Pfc. William G. Kupp Jr., of 253 East Middle street, Gettysburg, is a member of the 80th "Blue Ridge" Infantry division's 2nd Battalion of the 318th Inf. Regiment, which recently received the coveted Presidential Unit citation in the name of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, as announced in orders of the War department, signed by Chief of Staff General of the Armies George C. Marshall. The decoration accompanying the citation is a gold-framed blue ribbon, worn on the right chest, the only American decoration so worn.

The 2nd Battalion of the 318th Infantry regiment ground through the ring of Nazi steel around Bastogne to reach the encircled garrison within the city. The valiant role of the battalion in this epic drive which stemmed the tide of von Rundstedt's winter offensive will go down in military annals as one of the finest chapters in the history of the United States army.

Tokyo Radio Infers U. S. Should Take More Lenient Attitude Toward Peace

OBSERVERS SEE SOME HOPE OF QUITTING WAR

Editor's note: James D. White has been studying the Japanese military mind since he covered the beginning of the war in China eight years ago. He was a technical prisoner in Shanghai after Pearl Harbor until repatriated in August, 1942. After three years in the Washington bureau of The Associated Press he is on San Francisco's Pacific cable desk, and next week he takes over Kirke L. Simpson's column, "Interpreting the War News."

By JAMES D. WHITE
San Francisco, July 26 (AP)—Japan, backed against the ropes in a fight she started some time back, today spoke of quitting the war as a definite possibility.

This is the central fact which observers are able to pick out of the Tokyo radio's startling broadcast today urging the United States to take a more lenient attitude about this business of peace.

The appeal was carefully hedged about with qualifications which fitted in neatly into Tokyo's usual propaganda line. Nevertheless, it gave the impression that Japan would be definitely interested in peace if only the unconditional surrender formula could be softened.

Disastrous 2 Weeks
The broadcast, heard by the Federal Communications, came on the heels of the most disastrous two weeks the Empire has undergone.

Mammoth Superfort raids, paralyzing land-based aerial strikes from Okinawa, and the great fleet bombardments and carrier attacks since July 10 have ripped the Empire from stem to stern and further mangled the Japanese war machine in China and elsewhere.

So much so that earlier today Tokyo radio agreed with Admiral Halsey that American sea and air power indeed had opened the pre-invasion phase of warfare against the Japanese homeland.

The Japanese peace fever said there really are no "problems" between a "liberal America" and Japan, and claimed that a "liberal America has never given occasion for Japanese militarists to rise, but America now talks of unconditional surrender."

The implication is that America it not now "liberal" and that the unconditional surrender formula is an outgrowth of the lack of what the Japanese consider liberality.

"Hard Retribution"
In short, they (American officials) intend to mete out such a hard retribution that the Japanese people are more determined than ever to unite and resist as a united mass of 100 million souls and will so continue as long as American minds remain dictatorial and oppressive," declared the Japanese commentator.

"Should America show any sincerity of putting into practice what she preaches, as for instance in the Atlantic charter, excepting its punitive clause, the Japanese nation, in fact the Japanese military, would automatically, if not willingly (several words missing) follow in the stopping of the conflict and then and then only will sabers cease to rattle both in the east and in the west," he continued.

The spokesman's reference to the Atlantic charter suggested that he might be replying to an American broadcast made to Japan last Saturday by Capt. E. C. Zacharias, USN, who told Japanese leaders they had a fast-fading choice of two opportunities at present:

- Big 3 Statement
1. Virtual destruction of Japan followed by a dictated peace.
 2. Unconditional surrender with its attendant benefits as laid down by the Atlantic charter.

Two other factors may be involved:

There have been persistent reports that the Big Three conference in Potsdam has discussed and reached agreement on far eastern questions. The general assumption is that the result bodes no good for Japan and that Japan knows it.

Much interest also had been attached to a statement made in Chungking by China's premier, T. V. Soong, just back from several personal conferences with Marshal Stalin in Moscow. Soong made it plain that he had made good enough progress with the Russians regarding mutual problems that he was willing to be optimistic in pub-Gulden.—The semi-annual meeting of the Gulden and Cedar Ridge Rural Telephone company will be held Friday evening, July 27, at the home of President R. W. Gobrecht. Mr. and Mrs. Clinton McKonily, Elizabethtown, formerly of this place, were local visitors on Sunday.

Mrs. Margaret Kissinger, Harrisburg, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Starnier. Saturday guests of the Starniers were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Starnier and grandson, Frankie Brett, Mrs. Virginia Rebert and Mrs. Willie Harrisburg, and Mr. and Mrs. John Lynn, near Blue Ridge Summit.

James Harris and Lohr Kline-felter spent Saturday in McConelsburg. Miss Mary Duttera was a visitor in Hanover Saturday.

Telephone Service Star

★ High among the heroes of this war are the telephone communications men... who risk their lives on the vitally important job of installing telephone communications. Many of these men were telephone men in civilian life, and their war service has naturally left civilian service short-handed. We miss them and are firmly co-operating to help speed the day when we can welcome them back to their old jobs.

TRUMAN WILL REPORT BIG 3 MEETING TO U.S.

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Potsdam, July 26 (AP)—President Truman took a brief holiday from the Big Three conference today to fly to Frankfurt and review American troops there.

The President's trip, coming during a lull in the international parley, coincided with the disclosure that he planned to make a nationwide radio report of the American people when he returns to Washington at the end of the conference.

With Prime Minister Churchill, Labor Leader Clement Attlee and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden in London awaiting announcement of the results of the July 5 general election, Truman arranged to fly to Frankfurt for lunch with Gen. Eisenhower and to review troops of the 84th Infantry and the third armored Division.

Stomach "Traps" Runaway Monkey

Pittsburgh, July 26 (AP)—"Tarzan," the runaway monkey, was back in Highland park zoo today. His "monkeyshines" during a two-day spree in the Morningside district included biting two dogs, smashing a baby's stroller and generally terrorizing housewives and children.

Tarzan was finally trapped by the ninth successive day and it was presumed that the war against the Japanese was still a major topic of discussion.

(In London, it was disclosed that Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten, supreme commander of the south-east Asia command, had participated in the Potsdam conference. (The London Daily Express took the announcement to be the "first official indication that Premier Stalin has discussed the conduct of far eastern affairs with Churchill and Truman." The Daily Express added that Mountbatten, now in London, had rushed to Potsdam on "urgent instructions."

(The Daily Mail declared Mountbatten's presence in Potsdam could "only be regarded as having the greatest significance.")

"THIS OUR FATHERS BOUGHT FOR US..."

★ Kipling was speaking of precious human freedom when he wrote, "This our fathers bought for us long and long ago."

But courage and valor are not solely the virtues of brave fighting men in combat. It took no less courage for men like Pasteur, Lister, Koch, and hosts of others to struggle for scientific truth against cries of heresy from the ignorant and the superstitious. Inspired by the example of these great men, your physician battles the same foes today. At his side is the pharmacist, always eager to carry the fight to the enemy.

Leaves From
Diary Of War
Correspondent

By W. G. ROGERS
(Associated Press Arts Editor)
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)
New York, July 26 (AP)—From Nurnberg on the Pegnitz, where Metropolitan opera tenor and film star Nino Martini was singing for the USO, to Verona on the Adige, home of the family he hadn't seen since 1938, is about 250 miles.
"How far away is Verona, anyway?" the handsome Nino asked a cousin who had a flock of planes at his disposal.
"Just over the Alps. Why?"
"Well . . . I was wondering. My family is there, and I haven't seen them for seven years."

Flew Across Alps
"What are you doing tomorrow?"
the colonel asked.
"My day off."
So with official permission, and taking along an American general as hitchhiker, they flew across the Alps, from Nurnberg to Verona in an hour and a quarter.
"My people were very skinny," Martini reported this week when he came back to New York for a few days.
He has three sisters, six nephews and two brothers-in-law, one of whom is believed to be a prisoner of the Russians. He owns the house in which they live, but he never before had seen it.

Famed Tomb Hit
The house, from which the family was ejected to make room for Germans for several years, was undamaged. Verona itself, jump-off spot for the Brenner Pass, was bombed heavily; the tomb of Romeo and Juliet, near which Martini was born and of which his father used to be honorary custodian, was destroyed, as was Martini's mother's funerary chapel.

Martini gave one USO program in his native city, the first time he had sung there since he won fame in this country. (He came to the U. S. in 1929 and is now a citizen.) As guest of the mayor and the military governor, he also attended a civilian symphony concert. His family was invited, too, and it took four Army cars to get them all there.

His family also was invited to an Army dinner. Col. M. A. Lazar of Chicago was host. It was the first time the sisters and nephews had seen white bread in some four years.

Russian Trouble
Martini toured with Grace Moore;
they were accompanied by a violinist and a pianist.

His only difficult experience resulted from a plane flight with an Army officer. They inadvertently found themselves over Prague, in the Russian control area, and two Red planes forced them down. They had to do a lot of talking to get permission to leave. The only Russian Martini knew was the phrases for
"I love you. Kiss me again. Good-by." The only one that served was the last one.

Martini wants to tour again. He would like to sing "Butterfly" in Tokyo.

27,000 Lbs. Of Meat
Ruined By Strike

Pittsburgh, July 26 (AP)—The U.
S. Army, which yesterday rejected 27,000 pounds of meat tied up the last ten days by a work stoppage in two plants of the Fried and Feinman Packing company, was expected to decide today whether to send men and trucks into the plants to remove other meat intended for army use.
Capt. C. R. Phillips of the Quartermaster Corps, Chicago, inspected the meat yesterday and said 27,000 pounds was in such condition the army could not take it.
The rejected meat included 4,000 pounds of beef for sausage, 5,000 pounds of ham and shoulders, 8,000 pounds of pork trimmings and processed sausage, and 9,000 pounds of pork for canning, Capt. Phillips estimated.

Seventeen American ships have been converted to mule carriers at an average cost of $317,133 each.

Black Locust As Farm Crop

Black locust trees are among the best revenue timber crops for general farm roles. This widespread consideration is based on five sound facts: (1) Black locust does well on many types of soil from fertile loams to eroded clay banks; (2) They are easy and cheap to start; (3) Growth is rapid; (4) No other fast-growing tree surpasses black locust for checking soil erosion; and (5) Demand for its timber is heavy and sustained and profits perhaps excel those from any other kinds of timber.

There are three main sources of planting materials for starting black locusts—seedling trees from private or state nurseries, vigorous sprouts from old plantings, and seed. The first method is preferable where but a few choice specimens are wanted. The second method is best where a large planting is planned but it involves considerable labor, while growing trees from seed is a wholesale method of propagation that requires one additional year over the other two methods.

However land owners who have available space where black locust trees should be growing, especially where they would check costly soil erosion, should save seed from this year's crop and start a bed of seedlings this fall. It is wise to gather seed from trees that have been observed earlier in the season for their freedom from insects and diseases, also general habits of growth desirable to be propagated.

Borers Dangerous

Seed should ripen on the tree and then be gathered and stored in a dry place until planting time in late fall or early spring. A fertile, well drained bed in the garden is an ideal site for starting black locust seedlings.

Locust borers are the most dangerous insect pest of this tree in eastern regions. Experience indicates that trees exposed to direct sunlight, especially the lower portion of the trunk, are more seriously ravaged by borers than those growing in dense shade. This suggests solid plantings, mixing black locusts with other fast-growing species, and utilizing covers and northern slopes. Locust borers seldom menace trees after growth exceeds 6 to 7 inches in trunk diameter.

Another method of reducing borer dangers is to inoculate the soil when transplanting black locust seedlings. It has been observed that trees growing where the soil contains bacteria from previous black locusts are less severely attacked than trees growing where the soil does not contain these beneficial bacteria. Therefore, in planting black locusts, add a shovelful of soil around the roots taken from a site where the tree has grown in its native habitat. This is merely plant inoculation, such as is practiced when legume crops are planted for the first time.

Close spacing is advisable if black locust is planted to check soil erosion; wider spacing is recommended where timber production is the primary purpose. Well rooted sprouts from an old plantation or nursery seedlings may be set out in late fall or early spring. Seedlings should be cut back rather severely after planting. Spreading the roots out naturally and firming loam well over them are wise planting practices.

The editor invites all the questions readers wish to ask on this subject and other phases of starting timber trees.

2 Hats Furnish Clues To Murder

Pittsburgh, July 26 (AP)—Two hats—a brown felt and a missing white Panama—were the best clues police had today in the slaying of George Schnelbach, 71-year-old Orpheus singing society president.

Schnelbach was found beaten to death and robbed of about $50, police said, in an East Liberty school yard yesterday.

A brown felt hat of the "zoot suit" variety lay beside the body. The victim's white Panama was missing.

Lt. Fred W. Good said the brown felt had been purchased in a New York hat shop. He said:

"The slayer may have taken Mr. Schnelbach's hat by mistake if he lost his own in the scuffle. Or, he may have taken it deliberately because it was in better condition than his own."

Police said Schnelbach had apparently been struck down as he walked from the club to his home and his body then dragged behind a clump of bushes at the school yard.

The Landing Ship, Dock (LSD) is slightly more than 457 feet long, and has a beam of 72 feet.

H. T. MARING

37 BALTIMORE ST., GETTYSBURG, PA.

SAY UNCLE

DOROTHY BURGESS

Chapter 28

It was more than apparent that the star of Crimson Angel, Mario Drew, had forgotten all she had ever known about acting.

For a while Chamberlain laughed at her antics, thinking she was clowning; but as the rehearsal progressed and she kept it up, he grew sincerely alarmed and so did Ben Golder.

Chamberlain knew his patience was on the verge of exploding, so he called a fifteen-minute rest period. Exhausted, he strode off the stage and joined Ben, who sat out front amidst the empty seats in the darkness. Chamberlain sank down beside him.

"My God, Ben, what's gotten into Mario?" he asked in a low whisper.

Ben switched his gnawed, unlighted cigar to the other side of his mouth. "She's pulling another kooky trick!"

"But why?"

"She wants me to fire her," stated Ben flatly.

"But, my God, Ben—why?"

"If I break the contract, that will protect her from my black-balling her."

"A few more days of this and I'll have to take a rest cure!"

"Forget her and concentrate on the other members of the cast, and when she snaps out of this—at least you'll be that far ahead with the others."

"Knowing the young lady's tenacity for holding out, from previous contact with her," said Chamberlain, "I'll bet you another five hundred you'll end up having to fire her."

"You're on!" said Ben. "That'll put you a thousand in the hole."

"Well, here goes," said Chamberlain, as he rose and started down the aisle toward the stage.

Madge, her part in hand, stood in front of the brilliantly lighted dressing mirror, reading her lines. She liked Mr. Golder and she considered Mr. Chamberlain a genius; the way he knew and told her what to do. As for the cast—well, she had never met a more charming group of people. They were so nice to her. Maybe, thought Madge, as she practiced aloud her lines in true amateur fashion, maybe I have hidden talent and Mr. Chamberlain will discover it. Oh, wouldn't that be wonderful, she continued to dream. John would be so proud of me! A rap on the door startled her.

"Mr. Chamberlain is waiting," called the stage manager.

"I'm coming," answered Madge brightly, as she started toward the door after giving Mario's red hair a fluffy pat.

Lunch hour had been called when Mario and Uncle Louie arrived at the Lyric Theatre.

Mario swept down the theatre alley toward the stage door. Uncle Louie, who had to skip to keep up with her, called to her in an undertone:

"I'll wait for you here," he said, as he pantingly stepped into a shadow beneath the fire escape.

"O. K.," called Mario, as she continued on her way into the theatre. Mario didn't bother to rap on her dressing-room door. She walked right in.

"Oh, hello, Mario," said Madge calmly. She was cool and casual, while Mario was tense, burning up with a desire to get the whole thing over.

"Madge," said Mario, "I've finally come to my senses. And that was a lot for Mario to admit."

"You have?" asked Madge, completely devoid of emotional appreciation.

"It is you John loves," said Mario with finality, thinking this fact would bring to an end their experimental deal. But she was wrong. "I know John loves me," said Madge in a matter-of-fact tone.

Mario stared at her. "But isn't that what you want? Isn't that what you wanted to find out?"

"Yes," replied Madge, "but in the meantime I've found out something else."

"Have you?" Mario asked suspiciously. "What, for instance?"

"That I, too," announced Madge proudly, "can have a career."

"What!" gasped Mario.

"I never dreamed that I had a hidden talent until this morning."

"You're nuts! You can't act and you know it!"

But I can," said Madge indignantly; "Mr. Chamberlain told me so!"

"You're going to make a fool of yourself."

"Then in that case, we'll both end up with an even score!"

Mario was too beaten, too sunk, to fight any more. She turned and, without another word, left the dressing room. Madge looked at the door; then she shrugged her shoulders as she continued to recite aloud.

Miserable with defeat, Mario stepped out into the alley. Slowly she approached Uncle Louie.

"Well, my dear?" he asked.

Mario spoke dejectedly, "She won't drink the antidote."

"No?"

"No," repeated Mario. "She wants a career—my career!"

"Oh, no, my dear! Oh, no!" said Uncle Louie, who was genuinely surprised.

Then, for the first time in Mario's life, she cried, not like a woman, but like a heart-broken child. Uncle Louie was touched deeply as he extracted a snowy handkerchief from his pocket and wiped away her rapidly falling tears. Mario dropped her head on his shoulder and blubbered.

"She won't let me act. She's going to throw all my years of hard work in the ash can. She's going to make an amateur ham out of me!" she sobbed, and Uncle Louie patted her bowed head.

"Now, now my dear," he soothed in a fatherly tone, "crying won't help."

Mario sobbed harder. "I guess I'm paying for all my past sins. I'm being punished!"

"My dear," said Uncle Louie tenderly, "now that you've learned your lesson, I think it's time for me to step in and try to straighten out this matter."
